Summary

I am currently in final year of study in Metallurgical and Materials Engineering, NIT Raipur. I believe in doing the right thing, and treating other people well, like my friends and I started a project siksha from scratch where I formed a team of 40 volunteer, we went to govt schools every weekend, and gave them quality education. I have worked in small as well big teams and shown good team management and leadership skills. I am quick learner & analytical thinker. Apart from this I have a keen interest in quizzing and have been an avid quizzier throughout my school and college life I am also part of my college's official quiz club and like play badminton and do a bit of photography in my free time.
